7. Discussion and Hearings:

8:00pm Continuation of Formal Hearing for 20 Belton Street with owners, Ramesh Izedian and Gila Naderi. The hearing began with an inquiry from the Commission about where they are in the process of making plans to restore unapproved changes to the property. The owners shared that they have replaced the plastic shutters and added a latticework design to the porch over the front door that did not match the original. They also applied muntins to windows and sidelights that were changed on the front vestibule.

The Commission noted that four shutters are missing on the house and the proportions of the sidelights do not match the original. The proportions of the windows make this house distinctive. Further discussion followed with a request from the Commission for the owners to come back with a proposal to restore the entryway, add details to area above the windows and grids for the windows. It was decided to continue this hearing to February 5, 2019 at 8:00pm. Commissioner Stange was assigned to be the monitor for consultation purposes. This portion of the hearing closed at 8:37pm.

Old Business: Commissioner Guthrie finished the architectural description for the Arlington High School. This will be shared with Richard Duffy for his input. The Commission's role is to state the architectural significance and character defining features of the building.

New Business: Residential Study Group will have next meeting at the Town Hall on Friday, January 18, 2019 at 8:30pm. The Commissioners have been asked to review the draft in areas that apply to the Arlington Historical Commission. It was noted that there is resistance in the group to deal with the bylaw. A major question is how to change the bylaw to further protect houses in Arlington.

Victoria Rose will talk with Joan Roman about adding the Inventory list to the town website.

The Arlington Historical Commission adjourned at 9:15pm.

The next Arlington Historical Commission meeting will be February 5, 2019 at 7:45pm.

For the Arlington Historical Commission, Victoria Rose, Recording Secretary.
